Body Worn Camera Program

The Berlin Police Department deploys the Axon Body 3 Body Worn Camera. The Berlin Borough Council was instrumental in approving funding that allows this use of technology by our Officers. We take pride in our transparency and relationship with the public. While we know that wearing the body worn cameras helps promote trust within the community, we also use this equipment as a valuable tool for training and criminal investigations. This will allow our Officers to review incidents rather than relying solely on their memory of the events.

Supervisors conduct reviews of the body worn camera entries, so that we can better train our Officers and work with the community to bring the best services to you. There are limitations to their use, and while they do not capture every moment of every encounter, we believe their use has drastically changed our services for the better.
